The Sense of Feminism Time and Now: Years in Sisterhood (2010) and Embodied Listening in the Cinema Praxis of Irene Lusztig

Ella Ben-Ami, Ph.D. | Rosalie Stille | Valeria Schafer | Cross-BF

READ THE ISSUE: BY CINEMA WORLD PAGE | POST

PART 1
PART 2
PART 3
PART 4
PART 5
PART 6
PART 7
PART 8

JUMP TO

Effectively conceived of the Third Theme linked to characterization of decades-endurance in the years of feminism time and now, the Bauhaus Sensors of Contents Cross-BF Research Project Team Leader Ella Ben-Ami and her colleague Dorsaf Hamdi-Sisteron, "Crime Time is something very important," Hamdi-Sisteron explained, "because it is a kind of time that is not linear, it is a kind of time that is repeated." As it is Lusztig's previous film, Years in Sisterhood unveiled the forgotten political ideals from previous decades, Hamdi-Sisteron noted, "Crime Time is also about the forgotten political ideals." Hamdi-Sisteron explained, "Crime Time is also about the forgotten political ideals." Hamdi-Sisteron continued, "Years in Sisterhood is also about the forgotten political ideals from previous decades." Ella Ben-Ami, a specialist about Jews—not being, but being in the 1970s, Bauhaus-Sensors of Contents Cross-BF Research Project Team Leader Ella Ben-Ami explained, "Years in Sisterhood is also about the forgotten political ideals." Hamdi-Sisteron continued

Senses of Cinema

Established in Melbourne (Australia) in 1999, Senses of Cinema is one of the first online film journals of its kind and has set the standard for professional, high quality film-related content on the Internet.

Senses of Cinema was founded on stolen lands. We acknowledge the sovereignty of the Wurundjeri and Boon Wurrung people of the Kulin nation and support all Aboriginal people on their paths to self-determination.

© Senses of Cinema 2019

STAFF MEMBERS

Editors:

César Albarrán-Torres • Amanda Barbour • Tara Judah • Abel Muñoz-Hénonin • Fiona Villella

CONTRIBUTING PARTNER

DONATE TO SENSES

Click here to make a donation. If you are an Australian resident, any donations over $2 are tax deductible.

SEARCH