To choose your topic, think

Recent topics: News / headlines / research.

Quotations: Someone has said something interesting recently or in the past.

Think of a new angle on a known topic.

Argument / conclusion of the article.

How to start?

Analyze magazines / books / blogs you enjoy yourself.

Consider topics you have discussed with your friends recently.

Think about upcoming events.

Crafting the article

Do research: search and read about the topic.

Identify two individuals you may interview.

Agree on the interview with the person.

Writing the article

Make an outline: divide it to topics.

Think the first line / paragraph, the hook.

Include quotes from the interviews. Maybe a bio and image, too.

End the article with a statement / argument.
