

Weekly Learning Evaluation

The learning portfolio is a document that shows what you learned in this course, and corresponds to 30 % of the overall evaluation grade. The evaluation focuses on how the student is able to communicate reflections and insights that show a learning process by referencing to literature, lectures and other timely activities. This evaluation is also influenced how the student follows the given timelines. Below you find more detailed evaluation criteria.

Criteria	Below average (1 - 2)	Average (3)	Above average (4 - 5)
Reflection on learning and course content	The portfolio includes insights on individual weeks, literature assignments and lectures.	The portfolio includes a process of continuous learning communicated with references to the course literature, lectures as well as links to the questions and activities in project work.	The portfolio includes insights and critical reflections demonstrating skills to explain and apply the key principles and concepts in service design practice and research, and making references to previous knowledge
Other	The learning diaries are not delivered in time and are incomplete or have poor language, the overall portfolio shows glimpses on what student has learned over the course.	The weekly learning diaries are delivered in time and show learning over the duration of the course.	The weekly learning diaries are delivered in time and show active and insightful learning over the duration of the course.