Grammar

Two-way prepositions (Wechselpräpositionen)

- Nouns preceded by these prepositions take the accusative or the dative.
There is no corresponding structure in English.
- Nouns taking the accusative answer the question where to?
- Nouns taking the dative answer the questions where? and when?

Translate the following expressions and state whether the form is accusative or dative.

a week ago

on Hohenzollern Square

across the square

into the restaurant

(to put) on the table

(to live) among moving crates

nearby

across the street

in front the building

beside a bakery

under me

behind me

List of two-way prepositions:

an at, on, to, by

auf	at, to, on upon hinter	behind
in	in, into
neben	beside, near, next to
über	about, above, across, over, via unter	under; among
vor	in front of, before; ago (time)
zwischen	between

(p. 104) 6. Hanna is unpacking her moving crates. Fill in the prepositions as shown.

- 1) by the window / next to the window
- 2) under the table
- 3) into the cupboard
- 4) on the table
- 5) behind / next to the microwave oven
- 6) between the coffee maker and the microwave oven
- 7) above the table
- 8) in front of the window

7. a) Hanna's new home is almost ready. Write five sentences about her home using two-way prepositions.

die Lampe,-n (=lamp) der Sessel,- (=armchair) der Teppich,-e (= carpet)

der Tisch,-e (=table) das Sofa,-s (=sofa) das Kissen,- (=pillow)

der Vorhang,-e+ (=curtains) die Kommode,-n (=chest of drawers)

der Fernseher,- (=television)	die Pflanze,-n (=plant)	der Lautsprecher,- (=speaker)
das Bild,-er (=picture)	das Buch,-er+ (=book)	das Fenster,- (=window)
die Wand,-e+ (=wall)	das Obst (=fruit)

(p. 105) 7. b) Talk with your partner about Hanna's home.

8. Fill in the missing prepositions.

- 2) three weeks ago
- 3) in a few days
- 5) in a week's time
- 6) before the work trip

(p. 106) 9. Hanna and Florian go for a walk in the centre of Munich. Tell your partner what they do. Think about where you should use the accusative (where to?) and the dative (where? or when?).

(p. 107) 10. Julia calls her friend Hanna. Choose a role in the following telephone conversation. Julia leads off.

Julia	Hanna
Hi, Hanna! This is Julia. How are you?	Hallo Hanna! Julia hier. Wie geht's dir?
Hallo, Julia! Mir geht's gut, aber ich vermisste Wien.	Hi, Julia! I'm fine, but I miss Vienna.
It's hard to imagine that you moved just a week ago.	Ich kann nicht glauben, dass du erst vor einer Woche umgezogen bist.
Ich weiß. Ich habe noch Umzugskartons in der Wohnung.	I know. I still have moving crates in the apartment.
Do you already know your neighbours?	Kennst du schon deine Nachbarn?

Nein, nicht alle. Aber gestern habe ich die Nachbarn unter mir kennen gelernt.	No, not all of them. But yesterday I got to know the neighbours downstairs ("under me").
What are they like?	Wie sind sie?
Sie sind freundlich / nett.	They are friendly / nice.
And what is is the neighbourhood like?	Und wie ist der Stadtteil?
Die Maxvorstadt ist lebendig.	Maxvorstadt is lively.
I am happy for you.	Das freut mich.
Mich auch!	Me, too!

(p. 108) 11. Hanna's colleague Lara Schmidt pays a visit at her new apartment.

- 1) What does Lara think about Hanna's place?
- 2) What does Hanna offer her guest?
- 3) What does Hanna often get for herself in the morning?
- 4) How did Hanna get to know the Max Emanuel beer garden?
- 5) What is the Lenbachhaus?
- 6) Where does Hanna invite Lara to join her?

In spoken German, we often use the definite article instead of personal pronouns. For example: Die sind nett. (cf. Sie sind nett.)

(p. 109) 12. Read the text about Maxvorstadt and answer the questions.

- 1) What is the Königsplatz square famous for?
- 2) Who likes the museums in Maxvorstadt?
- 3) Why are there so many students in the neighbourhood?
- 4) What is the darker historical side of Maxvorstadt?

If you don't understand a word or phrase, don't stop reading. Focus on the parts you do understand.
