Exercise 7: develop a simple city model on a flat surface. The buildings should be dense and high to one side (city center) and lower and less dense to the other side (suburbs). Between the buildings should be a street network and no buildings or streets along a river running through the site.

A"DS Aalto University
Design of Structures

Toni Kotnik, Professor of Design of Structures

Parametric Design
Data Handlings
2.2.2021