Benchmarking for Design

1st deliverable, warming up for your projects

---

---

Today

Final group formation

Brief introduction to benchmarking

Trying it out together

Instructions for the assignment

Final group formation

From now on you will work in teams

Join your group members to:

- Exchange contact info
  - Set up shared folders, social media channels etc.
  - Discuss your initial ideas, goals and skills
  - Get the team agreement done

What is benchmarking?

Robert Camp defined it in 1989 as follows:

"Benchmarking is the search for industry best practices that lead to superior performance."

---

Benchmarking in different disciplines

Used in many fields of study with a bit different meaning

Technology: How does our solution compare to others in terms of performance, ease of use, cost and so on?

Business: What products are already out there in the market?
Who are we competing against?

Design: Supports ideation, inspiration, learning from others

Robert Camp's model from Xerox (1)

PLANNING

1. Identify what is to be benchmarked.
2. Identify comparative companies.
3. Determine data collection method and collect data.

ANALYSIS

4. Determine current performance levels.
  5. Project future performance levels.
  6. Communicate benchmark findings and gain acceptance.

INTEGRATION

7. Establish functional goals.
8. Develop action plans.

ACTION

9. Implement specific actions and monitor progress.
10. Recalibrate benchmarks.

In practice

Find relevant products, services, solutions, practices

Who did it? Why? Who is the target audience?

Try them out

Take notes on what works or doesn't (not just text but screenshots, video footage, photos etc.)

Try to figure out why

Compile a list of insights: what to take home and avoid?

Benchmarking report

- A report documenting the 3–4 cases you analyzed
  - Start with a one-paragraph "executive summary", you can simply call it Summary
  - Use screenshots and photos to illustrate the discussion
  - Maximum length: five (5) pages
  - Graded 0–5 based on quality of writing, structure, choice and analysis of the cases, and argumentation.
  - Deadline: Wed Jan 24th at 23:59
  - Submitted as a PDF through MyCourses

What's next?

Start with the assignment already: decide what to benchmark, find examples, try them out, document and analyze

When done with the research part, start writing your report

Initial tutoring is available, book a time slot beforehand.

Tip: choose the cases to support your ideation
