

2.2.2017

Learning and teaching in higher education (5 ECTS)

Learning and teaching in higher education course belongs to Aalto University pedagogical training entity (25 cr).

Learning outcomes

After the course, you

- are able to identify, define and evaluate factors that affect your teaching
- are able to recognize different theories of learning and you have become aware of how they influence teaching
- have formed your own approach to teaching and learning/ teaching philosophy and you have knowledge on how to develop your teachership and teaching
- you recognize factors which affect to the quality of teaching
- are able to understand your teaching in a wider context and envisage the expertise provided by your own field of teaching and the future prospects of the field.

Course content:

- Theories and practices of learning, approaches to teaching and learning
- Evaluation and quality as a part of teaching development
- Societal and ethical dimensions associated with teaching at universities
- Future outlooks related to teaching in disciplines
- Individual development as a teacher